Washington, Oct. 25 — (P) — The government's top labor trouble-shooter. Cyrus S. Ching, planned a direct report to the White House today on the deadlocked coal and stell strikes.

His report of lack of progress toward settling either of the economy-damaging walkouts may prompt a revision of administrategy in dealing with the crisis.

Until now President Truman has given Ching a free hand in trying to wangle agreements. Neither management nor labor in the twin disputes seems to have yielded in any respect from their positions. The President could put Taft-Hartley law emergency provisions into motion, with their eventual stricted and could make a personal appeal to the bartles, or summon them to the White House.

Ching suspended his talks with the U.S. Steel Corp. In New York last night and feturned here. Ching asked U.S. Steel officials to remain in New York, however, for possible further talks later.

A government order for rail-roads with 25 days supply of coal-or less to cut operation of coal-fueled passenger trains by 25 per cent was due to become effective at midnight tonight. Three lines alone, the Pennsylvania, the Long Island and the New York Central, said they planned to stop 202 trains.

Selfish Daughters

Ventura, Calif., Oct. 25 -(P)

It sounds like something out of an old Mack Sennett movie but it was no comedy to Harry Wilton Field, 35. Dear Miss Dix: We are a family of two sons and two daughters, all married. Our financial conditions are all on a par. Recently our mother became serfously ill, necessitating doctors, nurses and the other expenses of sickness. At that time at my sister's suggestion we all agreed that the four of us should divide the expenses equally so that the burden would not rest on just one's shoulders. Well, the sisters have contributed but a very small part and there remains quite a bit of expense yet to be taken care of and they refuse to pay their share. Say it is the duty of the sons to take care of such an emergency, yet they are quite as well able to pay as we are. Is it the sons' duty to bear the entire burden?

Two of his victims, both women, were critically wounded.

Tramping back and forth across a street, Runyon fired seven or eight charges from a 12-gauge shotgun through windows of the two taverns, witnesses said.

At the end of a violent 10 or 12 minutes, he walked a short distance up the street and fired a final charge through his own chest.

R. C. I.

Answer: Certainly not. Your mother is quite as much their daughters' mother as she is the sons', and it is just as much their duty to help take care of her as it is yours.

I do not know anything that shows up the innate selfishness of human nature so vividly and so hideously as does the way in which almost every family some members of it duck their responsibility to their parents and throw the whole burden of it on the shoulders of some brother or sister who

It occurs to us that football It occurs to us that football strength is leveling off. This, we think, starts right in high school. The coaches there are better trained and more and more kids are "going out" for football. Isn't it logical, then, that more good material is being produced for college teams!

material is being produced for college teams!

Of course, that isn't the whole answer. The "breaks" have much to do with the outcome of a football game. Still a greater factor is that intangible thing called "spirit." An average team can get so pepped up that it'll knock off a great team one week and then become so "flat" that it'll lose to the worst sort of a team the next. Coaches don't have the answer to Coaches don't have the answer to keeping a team in the right attitude for ten weeks in a row.

And isn't it all just as well?
What would be the fun in going to a football game if you knew every time just how it was going to come out?

The other night a socority gave the Trojans a party. Karam loaded the players into a bus, drove them from their barracks to the party. He joined them in song; games and chit-chat.

Occasionally Karam would call out a player's name and observe: "That's enough pie."

India's Ruler Is Direct in An Attack on Issues That Are Facing His Nation

By DeWITT MackENZIE

AP Foreign Affairs Analyst Few visitors to America have attracted such sustained interest to their expression of views as has Prime Minister Nehru of India.

This is due in part, I take it to the directness and clarity with which he attacks the paramount issues of the day, and in part to the fact that in him we apparently see the great new leader of Southeast Asia's millions, it is for this reason that this column returns to further comment on his opinions as one of the outstanding pernelities of our time.

as one of the outstanding perns!ities of our time.

For example, in an address before the Overseas Press Club of America in New York Nemu struck a body blow at the imperialism which is struggling to retain its foothold in the Far East. The prime minister declared that "next to hunger, nationalism in Asia still is the primary urge." He said that ultimately the orient must "play a very important part in world affairs," nave a bigger share of the world's wealth, and rid itself of foreign rule.

Nohru then made the startling prediction that "four or five years" will see the last vestige of alien rule in Asia.

prediction that four of five years' will see the last vestige of alien rule in Asia.

That prophesy has a peculiar interest for our column, since we have been insisting over a long period that the day of empires is rapidly coming to an end. The time when "mether countries" can dominate peoples of another race is all but past.

"Four or five years" may seem like a very short time to finish clearing imperialism out of Asia. Still, we must listen with respect to the man who, more than any other excepting the late Mahatma Gandhi, was responsible for the winning of India's freedom.

Another viewpoint of the Asiatic leader was expressed at a reception given by the United Malioes Correspondents as so e i a tion at Correspondents association at Lake Success, During an informal question period one of the news-papermen asked Nehru whether he though marxist and capitalist go-cieties could live side by side in-cicios could live side by side indefinitely.

"I don't think so." the prime minister replied. "It is possible, but ultimately one will influence the other. The society which delivers the goods—the better life!—will survive."

By "better life." Nehru was taken to refer not only to material things but to spiritual and cuffural matters. Of course to get the full significance of this approbad you must know just where Nohm stands i de o log i cally. As 151s column has reported previously, the prime minister is a moderate. Success or failure of Nehru's system in India will have a vast in-

Clinton, Oct. 24 — (A) — Busy afternoon shoppers who saw a man shot down in a blast of pistol slugs today were asked for their versions of the bizarre incident.

One of the witnesses to be questioned today was State Rep. Bert Bradley who said he was handed a pistol a few seconds after Scott formed to the ground. Five bullets had been fired from the gun. Sheriff Casinger said Martin Scott, 60, no relation to the wounded man, was being held in an undisclosed jail. No charges have been filed. Scott was arrested a few minutes after the shooting.

Luther Scott was taken to Fort Roots VA hospital in North Little Rock soon after the shooting. He suffered two bullet wounds in his chest and one in his left hip. His condition was reported as critical today by hospital attendants. One of the witnesses to be ques

Lives, Billions Involved in Service Fight

(Editor's note: This is the first of a series of articles summing up, back grounding and analyzing the armed services' quarrel on war strategy.)

Washington, Oct. 24 — (P) — A story of bitterness and friction in the armed services has been unolding in congress. It amounts to a story of deep disagreement over the best way to lick Russia in case of war.

Nobody has all the answers. But some of them came out in two weeks of hearings by the house armed services committee.

Basically, the dissension has grown out of the navy's feeling that it is being slighted. It thinks the army and air force have ganged up on it. The present fight dates back to efforts to push an armed forces unification law through congress. The navy, for the most part, was against it all the way. It finally went through in 1947.

Testifying against it then were men like Adm. A. W. Radford and Capt. John G. Crommelin.

Congress revised the law this year to give Secretary of Defense.
